How sweetly pass our early years-How swill our minuting lours-Our only toil to gather sweets Among lite's opening flowers. And little thought of darker cares

Cirmes a'ver the youthful linsom; Our feelings bloom undimmed by tears: Like boonday's sunny blossom.

But all' tou soon we surely know The dreams of chilhood over: And wrong, and erime, and passions dark Lake gathering clands discover. We learn, alas! ton soon to know, Views aft the plainest spoken,

Of Friendship-of enduring faith; And love-the soonest broken. The gay green fields, and flowers fair However they cace delighted;
Will have each charto-by wintry frosts
Their fairest lines are blighted.

Return in heanty never-Our fair young hopes and pleasant dreams
Once gone, are gone forever.

Polisuing cr.-Almost every body has me with a man who peddles a composition about the streets of this city. He is rather profuse in his remarks on its excellence, and proves its efficacy by rubbing it on brass candlesticks, &c. The following incident is said to have taken place a day or two since in the neighborhood of the Marsh market

Curious history of on old Trunk .- Some years since an old woman became an inin ite of Monthon workhouse, near this town bringing with her the whole of her worldly goods, consisting of a bedstead and a trunk. She died in the workhunse the country of Carlow. To Sir Thomas Butler the would undertake the expense incident to her interment, and inherit the old bed to her interment, and inh and the parish officers applied to her stead and trunk, or leave the last offices to the parish, who would then claim the property, such as'it was, to meet the expenses. The relative declined all interference, and the old lady was huried at the cost of the parish. When the Brixton union was formed, the Guardians rented, pro tempore, the Moulton work house, taking the property at a valuation. Among the property was the old bedstead and trunk. Here these two venerable articles parted company. Of the purchaser of the bedstead we have no ecord, but the trunk was knocked down

The husband, it seems, had heard strat.ge stories of untique trunks with secret drawers and hidden treasure; and no sooner did he see his wife's purchase than he set about minutely exploring all its peculiarities .- The wife who was not haunted by the same golden dreams, saw him strip off the old paper with which it was covered, with despair, he was evidently spailing her trunk for all such purposes as a respectable trunk is usually devoted to.

But the treasure secker persisted in his search, and presently discovered, to his own as well as his wife's ustonishment, a sunken drawer at the side of the the trunk, closely packed with 1000 pieces of gold coin, of the reign of James t., Charies II , William and Mary, and William If. The parties in whose hands this Indden treasure has so unexpectedly fallen, are an inch-trious and very respectahle, although a very poor people who will not misuse their good fortune. - English Paper.

SINGULAR SUICIDE. A young German, residing at 101, E. lizabeth street, next to the corner of Grand street, yesterday blew out his brains in the following manner. He loaded a pistal, first with a charge of powder, and then with a piece of wadi ding; upon this he poured some water. which he confined in the barrel with another piece of wadding. About dinner time he retued to his room, applied the pistol to his head, pulled the trigger, and blew his head into twenty pieces, which were scattered in every direction around the room, the nose in our place, lower jaw in another, an ear in another, pre senting a spectacle too horrible to des cribe. Pecuniary embarrassment is assigned as the cause; he had been from Germany but six weeks, and was disapmented in receiving remittances .- New York Herald.

THE WANDERING PIPER, Who has been pipin, for a year or two past in the United States, has returned home and issued the following address to the British publics.

o The unprecedented civility which I have met with from all grades of succety in Great Bruain and Ireland, during my rambles us the Wan lering Piper, less induced me to lay be-fore them the following accurate statement of m and rtaking, which, as yer, stands unriva led to the atomis of scorting. This much talk bed of campaign originated in the London Col-tee bonse, on the 4th of November, 1821, among fourteen worthes who had retired there to put he cope-tone on a dunner given by an American gentleman, who was then making the ton of Europe. In the course of conversation, poli zion, and the internal affairs in genera of Great Britain and America, were freely dis en-ed, and among other topics, the laws affect-ing the poor of both nations were not forgotten. as said by the American party of their charitable institutions, their warlike prowess naguanimity, independence, and unexamples hospitality. These arguments were as vigor onsh replied to by those representing the Bri tish Isles; the swinding and thicking propen sities of the Yankees, their delf china ware nahogany euchoder seed; and wooden nutnegs, were dealt out without mercy or remorse.

In course of the lengthened discussion, it was emarked by one of the numbers, as a lift to his own side of the question, that beggars and itinerant musicians lend been known occasionally to make a competency for life in England in a very short period; whereas in America they might pipe like Tommy Puck in Aster Fair, and draw iron tears down Photos cheek, without being able to coax a copper out of the Trapbois grasp of a Yankee. A good deal of disquisition afterwards ensued pro and con, which United States of America, disguised as a piper. Large wagers were now offered and accepted on both sides, his Majesty's lieges still contending, that, for one shifting the piper would receive in A occition, he would clear double that sum in Britain and Ireland. I accordingly commenced my piping in the summer of 1825, at Merchelmer and proceedings of the summer of 1825, at Merchelmer and proceedings. horough in Northumberland, reached Loudon in the course of a tew weeks, visited lifted. everal towns in the county of Kent, and was driving a tolerably fair business, when my drone was silenced all at once by the interference of a relation whom I durst not contend with. gentleman died in the beginning of 1827, in conquence of which hostilities were again renew ed in July the following year, in connexion with a young man, who, like myself had more money than judgment, and who furd bound binself to travel with a fightle on the continent of Europe. To this gentleman some of the jour-nals gave the title of Count Bender; but, pence to his manes, he died at Rome in the end of

The public have already been made acquainted, through the columns of the different jourals, with my perambulations in the United Kingdom, and the unprecedented kindness shown to me by some of the first families in Irc. land during a confinement of many months, oc-casioned by the overturning et a stage coach, in at the time above mentioned, a northern nobleman used great exertions to accomplish the at liberty or disposed to give the present explanation while in that country, there is little doubt but my carnings would have amounted to double the sum. As it is, I collected twenty seven thousand six humbred dollars, every cent of which I expended, or hestowed on charitathe institutions. It is my intention to wind up the whole of this complicated freak, by perfor-ming once more in all the principal cities and towns in Great Britain and Ireland, after the same manner that I did in the United States; that is, solicit permission from the chief magistrate of every place that I visit, and also the use of some public building to perform in, as laying in the streets is now entirely out of the mestion. In America, the state houses, courtrooms, theatres, city halls, and in many in-stances, churches were freely tendered. Should the same immunity be gracted to me in this country, I have no doubt but I shall leave the

I certainly anticipate much pleasure from my second tour through the Great Nation, as I expect to see many of the cheerful firces with which I was so much phased on former occa-ons, and to shake many a friendly hand.

Although my gains have been invariably ap p ied to the use of the poor on both sides of the Atlantic, still I wish the world to know that I im under no obligation whatever to give them to private individuals, or charatable establish ments: nor do I publish the amount of my far-ment domains as a line to bring people forward to my future exhibitions. I consider the money which I receive for piping entirely my own pro-perty, and shall in all cases use it accordingly. Public opinion has been much at variance con-cerning me, and all descriptions of titles, from a serning me, and all descriptions of titles, from a prince of the blood royal to a common mendi cant, have been conferred on me. I merely au-nounce myself as Mr. Stnart the Wandering Piper, by which appellation I wish only to be known for the present. And although I allow that large bets are pending on the favorable terunation of this extraordinary feat, yet I never told any one how far I am personally implica-ted. Every one who has heard of me is aware that my principal and has all along been to pre-serve my incognite, and to those busy bodies, who try to mmask me while but of my piping earb, I feel under no very particular obligation, and consequently shall treat them with the coa-and consequently shart treat them will the constempt they ment.

The following list of charitable donations does not contain one-third of the sums applied to benevolent purposes during my first tour in Fingland, Ireland, and Scotland, a small trunk having been washed from the drek of a steam bont between Bristol and Swansea, by which means a great number of vonchers to that effect word destroyed. Letters have been lately for were destroyed. Letters have been lately for warded to the unthorities of the different cities and towns where such receipts were granted with a request to have them renewed, when print of this address shall he again laid before e public containing the whole amount.

My present tour will be concluded in much sa time than the former, as I intend to travel with a horse and carriage; and I bind myself that all secrets shall be disclosed without reserve at the conclusion. To the grutleneous the press who have at all times spoken well a me, I feel grateful for a good opinion from se agh a quarter; to a very tew Editors and pri vale individu de who have represented me in a

Arsenic in Candles .- This violent point in has been discovered in the fallow cantles made in England in the proportion of from two to four grains to the contents to come to us-to be one of us-a part of every mould. TEXAS. our government and the Texian minister dissolved than Texas incorporated into on the subject of the annexation of Texas to this country, the remonstrants who have been making themselves ridiculous by sending their protests to Congress, uppear in their true colors. Most of them are persons who have scarcely giv. en the subject their attention-many of and republic. Wherein consists the ofthem are women, the last persons in the world to interfere in questions of this description and not one but who has taken 1825, it is difficult to discover. a narrow and circumscribed view of it. The abolitionists are opposed to the vote to their service, would be but an made-quate r compense. Various altempts nad been made to put an end to this archious frolic, and wished for consumnation, but without effect.

I continued my wandering for nearly twelve months after my recovery, and then sailed for America in March, 1833, where I succeeded and the signers whatever may be their as well as patriotism, is with the friends in beyond my own expectations, or those of imperiment and inconsiderate excitement eumstances that can be conceived -ought we not, if possible to avoid the growth

Argument, on whatever weight, and the silly effort of ald women whether in pettieouts or breeches, to take the public by a storm of remonstrances, I and though the abolitionists, who have discussions, have manifested a disposition field with honor to obself, and the heart-felt to stiffe all enquiry—suppress all invessions when good wishes of thousands, both rich and poor trions and are remonstrating when igntion, and are remonstrating when enndaur, I am free to confess, that if the time shall my present convictions, he an advocate for her annexation. Every argument, save one, that influenced Mr. Jefferson and those who co-operated with him in purchasing and nanexing Louisaina (which embraced Texas) convinces me I' the expediency, and necessity of annexing this new State to our territory, and adding her star to the glorious constellation that emblazons our Flag. There are strong arguments in favor of the annexation of Texas, which did not operate on the Louisiana purchase.

In the lirst place Texas was once, a part of our territory It constituted a part of the Louisiana purchase. I know that Spain denied our title to Texas, and so she did our right to Louisiana,claiming that Bonaparte was an usurper and therefore unauthorised to receive or ell territory belonging to the crawns of either i'rance or Spain. It is also true, that Mr. John Quincy Adams, whom all mankind now admit to br a petulent and captious man, as well as an unskilful didomattst, and on injudicious states:nan in his negociations with Spain for the requisition of Flurida, ceded (besides giving five millions of dollars) our to Texns I am so much of a patriot, and possess so much of the Roman feeling that, I am unwilling to relinquish one loot of territory over which our eagle ever sprend her wing. Texas has once been aus and I hope to see the day when she sha!! he incorporated into our Union. Here different light, I shall only say, that I trust they will never change their common of these and claim to this territory, is an archase and claim to this territory, is an argument which Mr. Jefferson did not possess, when he acquired Louisiana. In the second place, we had to purchase the Louisiana country at an expense of filteen millions of dollars. Texas offers of our household, without any expense argument which Mr. Jefferson had not

In the third place, we have an arguf our flesh, who desire to be with us and which I have mentioned did not hear on admit to have been wise and proper. Mr his very opponents are now compelled to do homage to his superior wisdom and sagacity.

It is now more than Ien years since advocated the annexation of that delight ful region to our country. It seems, from Since the publication of the correst recent disclosures, that Mr Adams who nondence which has taken place between now says he would rather see the Union the Union, was even before that peperiod preparing, through uur Minister at Mexico, for the purchase of this very

Finally, under the most favorable eirwe not, if possible to avoid the growth As regards this question of annexation of another, neighboring, but distinct reshould it ever arise, I trust it will be public, speaking our own language - with trented with deliberation, firmness and an extensive frontier, divided from us by wisdom. All attempts to foreclose opins | mere arbitrary fines, and from the very nature of things leading to future inevision, should be treated with the contempt | table collision and border wars, if not to worse consequences! If Texas is repul. side introduced, should have its due sed, that will be likely to end in hostilities, or what is more not improbably in the severence of this glorious Union which Mr. J. Q. Adams sceins so lightly to reshould be viewed in its true light. Truth | gard When, in the course of these loand justice fear nothing from discussion, cal conflicts, which are always to be deprecated, but which cannot always be abech elamorous un the subject of free voided, the South feel that Texas, settled by her sons and daughters, and bretheren -allied to her by ten thansand ties, so eial, business, and political--when such there is no action, let this question be a time arrives, as arrive it must, if Textreated with enlightened patriotism and as independent and at peace, is rejected and spurned frum us, the enemies of our Union and government may triumph in ever arrive, when Texus can present the downful of that glorious fabric which without involving our neutrality or peace- neither the Ha refurd Conventioism of the able relations with Mexico, I should with the North, nor the nullification of the South, could shake or injure. There are other important and interresting arguments that might be advanced on this subject; but I have said enough, I trust, to satisfy those who differ from me that 25 prizes of 1,000 dolls! 2,000 dolls! 25 prizes of 500 to satisfy those who differ from me that there are two sides of this question. If ! um in error, I am open to conviction, and ready to read arguments and give n justice to reason and truth, on whatever side it may appear. In acquiring Louisiana, I believe Mr. Jessers n rendered linvaluable service to his countrygranting away Texas I believe Mr. Adains did his country an injury. Those who opposed the Louisiana purchase are now violent against the annexatinn of Texns. I trust that all who upheld Mr. Jefferson, in the policy of annexation, will be consistent in carrying out and BARLOW. maintaining it.

MATCHLESS SANATIVE.

MATCHLESS SANATIVE.

DAVID S. ROWLAND, the General American Agent for this mighty medicine, (invented by the immortal Goelicke of Germany,) has great pleasure in publishing the following highly important letter from a respectable gentleman in New York, which he has recently received, with many others of similar character—also very interesting intelligence from several of his many others of similar character—also very interesting intelligence from several of his Agents, especially in Salem, as will be seen below—which, together with the annexed certificate from three eminent German Physicians, must forever establish the character of the Sanative, as being without a parallel in the history of medicine.

[The unequalled reception with which it has met, speaks more than volumes in its favor.—Alrendy has its list of Agents in America, it the short period of three months, swelled to the goodly number of SEVEN HUNDRED AND goodly number of SEVEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY-ONE, (mostly Postmasters,) who have voluntarily upplied for agencies from dif-ferent sections of the country, or else kindly forwarded responsible names as agents, in cases where it was inconvenient for them to act in that eapacity-and new applications are daily

Testimony No. 1.

A letter from II. F. Sherwood, Esq., of N. York.

Dr. S. Rowland,—Sir, About the middle of July last, I accidentally noticed in a newspaper the advertisement of the Matchless Sanature for which I necrowed you were agent, and tive, for which I perceived you were agent, and which professed to be a soverign remedy for Consumption.

As my wife was then fast wasting away with As my wife was then fast wasting away with this dreadful disease, and as our family physician was daily and motionisty endenvoring to restore her to health witbout success, I stepped over to his house and asked him if be had any objections to her taking this new medicine. He replied, that "he was perfectly willing Mrs. Sherwood should take that or any other medicine she might choose, but he thought it could do her no good. "I her hungs seere smidly coneine sne might choose. Ont he thought it could do her no good, as her lungs were rapidly con suming and no human means could sare her." Still, us a drowning person will catck at a straw, and the Sanative being recommended by three physicians who had used it in their pructice, she concluded to give it a tried. I sent tice, she concluded to give it it that. I sent and purchased a vial, which she commenced taking three times a day, giving a free indulgence to her appetite necording to the directions. By pursuing this course, she suffered considerably for the first eight or ten days, but was shortly able to eat and drink freely, without medicine, her feeble and wasted form began to put on new strength, and she has been gaining the utter astonishment of our family physician and friends. She is now enjoying a comforta blo (though not perfect) state of health, is able to be about house and attend church. Mrs. Sherwood and myself are both fully of the opinion, and so are all who knew her re-markable case, that she over her life to the San ative alone; and as there are probably many consumptive persons in the United States, who have not yet heard of this medicine, measures ought speedily to be adopted to have it more generally known.

A number of persons in this neighborhood, I understand, are taking it for other serious complaints, with very great benefit.

I think of going to the South, with my family, sometime this full, and in case I do, I will proclaim the virtues of the Sanative in that quarter; for although some of the Physician here are actively opposed to it, I do succeedly believe it saved my wife from an opening grave. If you think this letter will serve the public good, you are as liherty to publish it.

Respectfully, &c. II. F. SHERWOOD.

We, the undersigued, practitioners of Medicine in Germany, are well aware, that by our course we may forfeit the friendship of some of the faculty, but not of its henevolent members who are uninfluenced by selfish motives .-Though we shall refrain from an expression of our opinion, either of the soundness or ansound ness of Dr. Goelicke's eew doctrine, we are happy to say that we deem his Sanative too valuable not to he generally known; for wha our eyes behold and our ears hear, we must be

We hereby state, that when Dr. Loois Ollor Goelicke first came before the German jublic as the pretended discoverer of a new doctrine and a new medicine, we held him in the highest contempt, believing and openly pronouncing him to be a base impostor and the prince of quacks. But, on hearing so much said about the Sanative, against it and for it, we were induced from motives of curiosity merely, to make trial of its reputed virtues upon a number of our most hopeless patients; and we now deem it our bounden duty (even at the expense of our self-interest) publicly to acknowledge its mighty efficacy, in curing not only consumption, but other fearful maladies, which we have heretofore believed incurable. Our contempt for the discoverer of this medicine was at once swalwed up in our utter ostorishment at these in-expected results; and as aniemls for nur abuse of him, we do trankly confess to the world that we believe him a philanthropist, who does binor to the profession and to our country, which gave him birth.

The recent adoption of this medicine into ome of our European Hospitals, is a sufficient guaranty that it performs all it promises. It needed not our testimony, for wheveuer it is used, it is its own best witness.
